“Digging back into the future – preparing Portsmouth Naval Base for the arrival of HMS QUEEN ELIZABETH”

Presented by

Capt. Iain Greenlees OBE RN Rtd
Infrastructure Director for Carrier Programme Board and Portsmouth Naval Base

After 800 years of supporting the nation's fleet, the preparations to support the two Queen Elizabeth Class aircraft carriers, the largest Royal Navy warships ever, through their 50-year life based at Portsmouth, took the team back through centuries of history in the seabed and shore infrastructure. This lecture will follow the journey of the team delivering these changes through the historical, environmental, technical and archaeological challenges to be ready for the maiden voyage of HMS QUEEN ELIZABETH.”
